Debt and Taxation.

The propositions put forth by Jay Cooke, respecting the influence of a National Debt on National prosperity have been discussed by sundry journals with more levity and flippancy than comport with the gravity and importance of the subject. It may be quite true that it is inconvenient to pay heavy taxes, without disproving the averment that nations burdened with heavy public debt have more rapidly increased their production, thrift and wealth, than ever before—more rapidly than their neighbors who owed (or paid) little or nothing. Compare Spain (which owes a reasonable amount, but repudiates most of it) with Great Britain or France, whose debts are heavy. Compare heavily indebted Holland with the late kingdom of the Two Sicilies, or with Portugal. We have certainly on record the most dolefully confident prophecies by eminent political economists that, if the British debt were increased a little more, it would swamp the kingdom; yet we have seen that debt since rapidly doubled—yes, trebled—yet the kingdom richer and stronger than ever. Manifestly, the merits of the case do not all lie on the surface.

The taxing power, in wise and firm hands, is capable of a most beneficial and salutary use in diminishing the number who evade productive industry and live uselessly to their kind. For instance: Does any one doubt that an annual license fee of $100 exacted of all practicing lawyers would result in public benefit? Lawyers are a useful, necessary class; but two-thirds of those who seek to live by law are neither useful, necessary, nor even ornamental. Such a tax as we suggest would probably reduce the profession a third, thereby sending thousands into other vocations, and would prove advantageous alike to real lawyers and to those who need legal services. In our judgment, a tax of even $200 per annum on lawyers would benefit all classes.

So of the sellers of beverages. Man, being thirsty, must drink; yet he does not need a well or a pump on every street corner. We judge that half a million of our 30,000,000 of people live by the retailing of "something to drink." Suppose this vocation were taxed—say, $100 in places of less than 1,000 inhabitants; $200 in places of over 2,000 and less than 10,000; $500 in places of over 10,000 and less than 100,000; and $1,000 in cities containing more than 100,000 people—what harm would result? We should all drink all we need (at least); we should buy our beverages as cheaply as now; but we might have to walk a block or two farther to obtain them; if we did not go quite so often, what harm? Yet such a tax would so reduce the number of drinking places as to restore scores of thousands to productive industry who now evade it by dribbling out dimes' worth of whisky or lager to all comers. The change thus constrained would add millions per annum to the wealth of our country. And these are but casual suggestions. We firmly believe it possible to raise all the revenue needed for the support of our Government by taxes that individuals, indeed would feel, but which would increase the wealth and well being of the country.

Yet we do not choose to stand with those who deem a national debt a "national blessing, lest we be held to the logical corollary that the greater the debt the greater the blessing, and so to that canonization of St. Shoddy that we particularly eschew. In our judgment, of all the men who have sinned against the Republic in her recent day of trial, those who have swindled her with exorbitant charges, rotten transports, poor iron, and any other of the kindred resorts of rascality, should be the last forgiven. The natural, genuine rebel is a bad egg; there was scarcely a blackleg, libertine, rowdy or profligate in the South who was not one of them, or in the North who did not wish them success; but the reveler in shoddy was a more hypocritical, detestable scoundrel, in that he oftener affected patriotism if not piety also; and, while the rebel was sawing at the throat of Uncle Sam, shoddy was picking his pocket—often with his eyes turned up to heaven, and with protestations of loyalty on his lips the incorrigible villain! Several have been cashiered from high official trusts for swindling their country when she was on the very brink of ruin; others have just escaped a similar fate by hiring Senators and other "big bugs" to engineer for them—as "counsel," of course. One, if we mistake not, was Surgeon-General, and bought millions' worth of medicines for our armies at rates 25 per cent. higher than he need have paid; one, we hear, bought $6,000,000 worth of coffee for the Government just when our currency was most depreciated and coffee consequently highest—and so on. Probably, some hundreds of millions have by such means been added to our national debt; and Mr. Cooke must excuse us for not regarding those who thus lined their own and their friends' pockets as public benefactors. As building monuments seems now in vogue, we suggest the erection of a pyramid on which the names of all these gentry shall be chiseled deep in everlasting stone, with the amount of each man's stealings debited opposite his title. A good portion of our mushroom aristocracy might be thus favored; while our "first families" of following ages might trace back their pedigree to one or more ancestors here emblazoned, being thus enabled to establish a strong presumption of hereditary talent for thieving.

No, Mr. Cooke! you must not prove the magnates of shoddy entitled to popular gratitude, or you will compel us to dissent from your theory, if only to avoid this detested deduction. "Take any form but that!"—N. Y. Tribune.

FOR THE EAST.—A party left this valley yesterday for the Atlantic States, overland. It is stated that the party, when they all get together, will number about fifty persons, the principal portion of whom go from this valley. Among the number are several of the "steamboated" Coeur d'Alene prospectors, who, having concluded that the search for the glittering ore is all vanity and vexation of spirit, return to the "land of steady habits," believing that the quiet of the "homes they left behind them" is preferable to the continual round of excitement that has greeted them here. So mote it be, but if they rid themselves of the charm that seems to possess Pacific-coasters to the Atlantic States and overcome that longing to come back again that all such profess to have, they will be more fortunate than the experience of many with whom we have been acquainted has led us to believe they will be: and especially so now, since the homes of the Atlantic, having nearly every one of them been deprived of some of their members during the war, are no longer the happy, unbroken circles they were a few years ago. There are two or more families in the train, and among the number are two sons of Mr. T. P. Denny, of Dry Creek, and Mr. — Hart, of this city. A gentleman who brought up a drove of mules from California last spring, for sale, also goes along, believing he can find a good market for his mules at St. Louis.—W. W. Statesman.

DRESS REFORM CONVENTION.—The dress reformers recently held a convention in Rochester. There was quite a gathering of short skirts and pantaloons. One woman, Mrs. Hasbrouck, said she had been brought next to death's door by adopting the "American costume," as she had done the labor of six women since adopting it. A Mrs. Roberts, the woman farmer of Niagara county, New York, appeared on the stand with her five daughters. Mrs. R. said that she was not ashamed to be seen, that she and her daughters do not look very delicate, but the girls were very hardy young ladies. They are all farmers, know the good points of a horse, and know what crops are most profitable. The meetings seem to be occupied by the giving of the "experience" of those who have adopted the "American costume." A Mr. Dunstan "went the whole figure," and advocated the abolition of skirts and the adoption by male and female of the same dress. He went in for shocking people, as he said people needed to be shocked.

WHERE DIAMONDS COME FROM.—The richest diamonds are brought from Golconda and are dug from mines, but they are found in other places, particularly in Brazil. Amethysts, topazes, agates, sapphires, rubies and garnets, together with other gems, are found abundantly in the isles of Japan, on the continent of Asia, in South America, and some countries of Europe. Bohemia particularly is famous for garnets which are found chiefly in the mountains of Steintelberg. The diamond holds the first rank among precious stones, it was called by the ancients Adamant. The most perfect diamonds are white, there are others of inferior value, differently shaded. Red rubies are called oriental rubies. Precious stones may be more readily distinguished from each other by their different degrees of hardness, than by their color, for we have green diamonds sapphires rubies, emeralds, and agates. Most of our beautiful emeralds come from Peru, though they are found in other parts of the globe.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 18, 1865.

Claims of the Hudson's Bay Company

Some weeks ago we spoke briefly of the claims against the United States which the Hudson's Bay Company and the Puget Sound Agricultural Company recently made out to be presented to the Commissioners appointed to assess and adjust them. These claims it will be remembered grow out of the alleged interruption by citizens of the United States of the occupancy of Oregon by the Companies just named. They assert that rights which were guaranteed them by treaty have been invaded and finally wrested from them, that by the wrongful conduct of our people, their property within our territory has been rendered valueless and that by reason of our aggressions they have been compelled in many cases to relinquish the same and to retire from our borders. A treaty was concluded in July, 1863, by which it was agreed that all the possessory rights and claims of the two Companies within our jurisdiction should be transferred to the United States for a reasonable money consideration. The Companies lately went to work making estimates of the losses they claim to have sustained in the manner related and the result of the several multiplications and involutions of the value of their suppositive property, is a "bill" against the United States of about $5,000,000. A curious account is made up of the value of forts, farms, cattle, sheep and all sorts of possible and impossible property—Indians, Kanakas and half breeds excepted—the rights of trade and navigation, &c. for the loss of which the United States is asked to pay. The forts and stations are valued thus:

Vancouver and its appurtenances	$ 851,666 66
Champoeg	15,546 67
Cowlitz	2,143 33
Astoria	4,136 67
Cape Disappointment	14,600 00
Chinook	1,400 00
Umpqua	24,133 33
Walla Walla	81,273 33
Boise
Okanagan	10,466 67
Colville	80,300 00
Kootenai	4,566 67
Flat Heads	4,920 00
Right of Trade	977,343 00
Navigation of the Columbia river	1,460,000 00
Total	$3,822,036 67

In former times, before we began to reckon money by hundreds of millions, the above would have been thought quite a sum. There may be people now who would call it a mere bagatelle. Mr. Day, the counsel for the Company, talks just as if these claims were laid at a ruinously low figure, merely to favor the United States. But we have not done yet with these modest demands for indemnity. The Puget Sound Agricultural Company has the following little memoranda against us:

For the Farms, Buildings &c. about Nisqually	$796,133 33
Lands and Farms at Cowlitz	125,533 33
Loss of Stock, profits of land, &c	246,333 33
Total	$1,168,000 00

It may be possible that our Government will allow and pay these claims, as it has never yet been known what sort of a demand on the public treasury is deemed to be rejected. To this rule an exception is to be made of a certain class of claims too honest to be paid or lobbied for by those who are simple enough to bring them forward for settlement.

It is not enough to say that the value of the several trading posts, farms, etc., is assessed or estimated by the Companies at exorbitant rates, the claims are simply absurd. Take the case of the port of Vancouver. This station, with the lands in the vicinity, is reckoned to have been worth above $850,000. The present value of the taxable property of the whole district surrounding Vancouver, and once claimed by the Company, will not now, we venture to say, reach this large sum. Hence it may be seen how extravagant, or worse, how ridiculous, these demands are. All the other claims are of a nature precisely similar to the example just given.

The Company ask to be indemnified for the losses, real or pretended, which they sustained by reason of the war between our people and the Indians in 1855-6. They complain that on account of this war they were obliged to leave their trading posts, and repair to places of safety, thus losing much valuable property. Now the Indians, if we recollect aright, did not make war on them. And if they had done so it would have been no fault or business of ours. The Indians began the war against us, and we are not responsible for its occurrence. Our own war debt for that period has not been fully paid by the Government. We have as much right to demand that the Hudson's Bay Company shall pay it as the Company has to claim indemnity from us for losses which we did not cause them to suffer. Indeed, we have a greater right, for the Indians were the authors of the war, and they were at the time, and had been for years under the tutelage, management and control of the Company, the members of which may not unjustly be thought accountable for their actions.

A Board of Commissioners, it is said, has been appointed by our Government to investigate these claims. None of the Board have yet gone, and we suspect never will go beyond the purlieus of the Department at Washington to look after the business with which they have been intrusted. It may rationally be supposed that before the end of the present century the Board will make some kind of a report, and that somebody will make some money. Mr. Seward has cunningly appointed the President of the Breckinridge Seceders' Convention to manage the case on the part of the United States. We are not informed, nor are we able even to guess, what motive urged the Secretary to attempt a brilliant piece of strategy by making this appointment. Caleb once was at a loss to choose between Union and Disunion. Since he knows nothing about the powers and structure of our own Government it would seem as if he must, perforce, be qualified to act as attorney in a case on trial between ourselves and John Bull.

Meantime testimony in the case is being taken. W. C. Johnson, Esq., has been for some weeks at Victoria engaged in this duty. We have the satisfaction, at least, of knowing that this part of the business is in good hands. That "little Alabama bill," we presume will be set off against these claims when the day of payment comes. This "bill" will probably be plead in all interesting questions of debit and credit between ourselves and John Bull for a century to come.

TIME.—The Idaho World notices the arrival at Idaho City of a large stock of goods belonging to D. & J. Isaacs of that place. These goods were hauled overland from Red Bluff by way of Owyhee. The World says that they are the first received by that route. It might also have been added that these goods were considerably over two months on the way from Red Bluff to Idaho City. To be precise as to dates, the train left Red Bluff on the 2d May, and reached Idaho City the last week in July. A part of the same stock of goods was sent by way of the Columbia river, having been started from San Francisco at the same time the wagon train left Red Bluff, and the result was that the goods which came this way reached Idaho City and were sold out before those which were carried through from Red Bluff had come within hearing of their place of destination.

THE INDIANS.—The Atchison Free Press says we are about to have an Indian war in earnest. The tribes on the plains are all combined, and are evidently determined to fight. The Free Press estimates that it will require 50,000 troops and $5,000,000 to 'close out' the Indians.

England never yet mustered one army of 100,000 men. She has more than that number, but they are scattered all over the earth.

Stage Robbery.

OROVILLE, Aug. 16.—The stage between Laporte and Oroville was stopped by five robbers about daybreak this morning, a short distance this side of Laporte. The robbers had built a barricade of fence rails across the road. They were armed with shot guns and demanded the Treasure Box of Wheeler & Co.'s Express. After breaking open and taking out the treasure they returned the box and left for the woods. The stage driver thinks they got little treasure as the box was light.

From the Overland Line.

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 16, 1 o'clock, P. M.—The repair party are now at the break between Sweetwater Station and Platte Bridge. They have an operator along who came into this station this morning with the instrument at six o'clock. He reports the party fourteen miles west of Platte Bridge and they worked all night at the break lately made. Considerable wire has been carried off. The Indians were in sight watching them and fears are entertained that they will be attacked. At 8 o'clock A. M. he reports that they are within five miles of the Platte Bridge. There is hope it may be working through to day.

California Union State Convention.

SACRAMENTO, August 16.—The Union State Judicial Convention was called to order this afternoon, punctually at 3 o'clock, by A. J. Bryant, Chairman of the State Central Committee, in the Sixth street Methodist Church.

Hon. W. H. Parks, of Sutter, nominated for temporary Chairman, J. G. McCallum, long hair, of El Dorado.

On taking the chair, Mr. McCallum addressed the Convention at length. He contended for a continuance of organizations in the Union party. He said those in favor of breaking up such organizations should and must be put down; the cry must be "stand by the Union organization."

Marcus D. Boruck, of San Francisco, and J. W. Muzer, of Alameda, were elected temporary Secretaries. John H——, of Sacramento, and R. O'Keefe, of San Francisco, were elected temporary sergeants at arms.

Hill, of Placer, moved that a Committee on credentials be appointed, said committee to be composed of one from each Judicial District.

Mr. Dennison, of San Mateo, moved to amend by having the committee composed of one from each county. The amendment was lost and the original motion carried.

The Committee on Credentials formed of First Judicial District, W. F. Swasey; Second Judicial District, S. J. Clark; Third Judicial District, B. F. Ferris; Fourth Judicial District, H. S. Brow; Fifth Judicial District, J. J. Morril; Sixth Judicial District, C. C. Green; Seventh Judicial District, G. G. Dow; Eighth Judicial District, D. Haven; Ninth Judicial District, N. Grove; Tenth Judicial District, W. H. Parks; Eleventh Judicial District, O. H. Burnham; Twelfth Judicial District, Charles Fox; Thirteenth Judicial District, E. C. Bell; Fourteenth Judicial District, James E. Hale; Fifteenth Judicial District, J. D. Lucks. There were selected for Committee on Permanent Organization and Order of Business, David Belden, Nevada; J. R. Hardenburgh, San Francisco; J. Ekerly, San Joaquin; Felix Tracy, Shasta; Hardy, Calaveras.

The appointment of the committee on resolutions and platform gave rise to a warm debate as to whether it should be composed of fifteen or seventeen members. Finally the committee was appointed by the Chair, to consist of S. W. Dwinelle, of Amador; Ira P. Rankin, of San Francisco; H. Phillip, of Nevada; W. L. Dudley, of Calaveras; J. S. Belcher, of Yuba; C. Hartson, of Napa; and W. S. Safford, of Butte. Adjourned till 8 o'clock this evening.

EVENING SESSION.—The Convention met and adjourned till 9 o'clock tomorrow, without doing any business. It is understood that the committee on credentials were not prepared to report on the Sacramento delegates; also, that the bolters and People's Party delegates are voted out. All quiet. The Convention will be harmonious.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 17.—The Convention met this morning at nine o'clock pursuant to adjournment. The Committee on credentials made its report. The only question was on the delegations from Sacramento county. Thirteen of the fifteen composing the committee reported in favor of admitting the Turn Verein delegation or the longs, which report was accepted by the Convention. The bolters presented no credentials from Yuba, Placer, Nevada, &c.

The Convention also adopted the following permanent officers and order of business: For President of the Convention, J. G. McCallum, of El Dorado; for Vice President, W. L. Dudley, of Calaveras and W. E. Hopping, of Shasta; for Secretaries, M. D. Boruck, of San Francisco and J. W. Musser, of Alameda; for Sergeants at arms, John Byrnes, of Stockton and James Riley, of San Francisco. First. The nomination of candidate for the office of Judge of the Supreme Court. Second. The appointment in the following manner of a State Central Committee of fifteen, viz: That the Committee already appointed upon credentials do report to this Convention the name of one member from each Judicial District of this State, said members thus reported, to be elected by the Convention, and that there be four additional members appointed by the chair to be selected from the city of San Francisco, to act as members of said Committee.

2d. The report of the Committee on resolutions.

The motion to amend the report so that the resolutions might precede the nominations, was lost by a vote of 185 to 139.

The motion to amend the report so that the members of the State Committee at large should be chosen by the Convention, was also lost. The Convention then proceeded to the nomination of a Supreme Judge. S. W. Sanderson, J. H. McKune, W. F. Saxton and S. W. Brockway were placed in nomination. A combined effort was made by the friends of Saxton, Brockway and McKune to impeach the loyalty of Judge Sanderson. Half of the day was spent in the discussing of the merits and demerits of the favorite candidate, which finally ended in the nomination of S. W. Sanderson. The following is the vote: Sanderson, 169; McKune, 68; the names of Saxton and Brockway being withdrawn.

The Convention then adjourned till 4 o'clock P. M. At 4 P. M. the Convention reassembled and proceeded to elect a State Central Committee. The entire committee is "long hair," with three exceptions. The minority endeavored to elect three delegates, but were voted down by large majorities. The Convention adjourned at half past six o'clock.

From the Lower Coast—Thirty-two bodies washed ashore—Their Description.

JACKSONVILLE, August 10.—The following was received this evening by B. F. Dowell from R. Dugan, of Crescent City:

Through the politeness of our Coroner, Mr. Eldridge, I was permitted to take an abstract from his books of the names and description of the bodies found and buried by him in the city burial ground, from the ill fated Brother Jonathan, to this date as follows: No. 1, Mr. Teach, U. S. A.; No. 2, R. Lonate; No. 3, Geo. W. Pollock, put in pine coffin; No. 5, Geo. Chwlch, negro; No. 6, a white woman, judged to be between 35 or 40 years old, auburn hair cut short, about 5 feet 4 inches in hight, thick set, fair complexion, upper fore teeth gone, no marks or papers by which she could be identified; No. 7, Lieut. E. D. Waite, U. S. A., in zinc coffin; No. 8, white man, about 5 feet 8 inches in height, dark auburn hair, small beard on his face, little finger on his left hand gone, no papers on him; No. 9, white man, about 5 feet 10, high and slender, light brown hair, grey flannel shirt, grey pants, had a baggage check No. 73—no other papers; No. 10, Chas. Laws, negro; No. 11, negro, about 5 feet 10, well made, about 35 years old, upper fore teeth wide apart; No. 12, white man, about 5 feet 8, very slender made, hair and goatee sandy, left molar in upper jaw gone, high forehead, about 20 years old; No. 13, white man, about 5 feet 10, light brown hair, fair, no beard on face, no marks or papers; No. 14, Jas. Nesbit, of the S. F. Bulletin, in zinc coffin; No. 15, A. Dyer, freight clerk of the Jonathan; No. 16, a man supposed to be Jas. C. Tritter, from a telegraph dispatch found on his person, from Samuel Hilder of Rochester, dated June 9th; No. 17, a man supposed to be J. Strong from a steamer ticket found on him; No. 18, I. L. Anchoino; No. 19, mulatto woman, ring on her finger, jet ear rings with gold mountings.

No. 20—Mulatto woman, gold watch, guard chain and slides, hunting case No. 18,040; portmonie with four breast pins, two ear rings, two studs, a silver finger ring and seven dollars and fifty cents in coin.

No. 21—Mulatto woman, had in one ear a large ear ring set with a ruby and pearls, one finger ring with the letters H. S. engraved on it, one ring set with opal and one plain ring.

No. 22—White woman about 5 feet 2 inches high, stout built, long auburn hair, good teeth, about 30 years old, fair complexion, had on her person a common breastpin, one thimble, seven plated spoons, three ivory handled table knives, one $1,000 Legal Tender note, five $20 do., seven $10 do., two $100 do., five $50 do., and one note of $5 on the National Bank of Poughkeepsie. Total, $1,625.

No. 23—A negro man about 5 feet 10 inches high, supposed to be 25 or 30 years old.

No. 24—A white man about 5 feet 10 inches high, stout built, weight about 160 pounds, light auburn hair and whiskers and moustache, good teeth, watch and chain, No. 31,548, buckskin purse with $420 in coin and $85 50 in greenbacks.

No. 25—William Perkins, of San Francisco.

No. 26—A white man, supposed from his diary to have left Springfield, June 10th 1864, sailed from New York on the steamer [illegible], July 1st, landed in San Francisco July [illegible]; had on his person a gold watch No. 14[illegible], hunting case. He was about five feet ten inches high, medium stature, dark brown hair, moustache and whiskers [illegible] years old, plain gold ring on his finger [illegible] in a silver case.

No. 27.—A white woman, [illegible] except drawers, five feet nine inches high, heavy set, heavy auburn hair, very light, clear complexion, had a gold ring on her finger with an emblem of two hearts united. She had a one set of teeth.

No. 28.—A white man, fair complexion, auburn hair and beard, five feet eight inches high, heavy set, had on grey plaid pants and vest.

No. 29.—Mulatto man, about five feet ten inches high, round, smooth face, good teeth, heavy set, weight about 160 pounds, supposed to be about 25 years old, had on dark gray pants.

No. 30.—A white man, about five feet ten inches high, weight about 175 pounds, dark brown hair, whiskers and moustache, sandy, had on speckled cassimere pants, white shirt, with a sleeve button with the letter "Z" on it, supposed to be about 40 years old, no papers.

No. 31.—A white man, about five feet eight inches high, hair and whiskers sandy, light complexion, prominent features, high cheek bones, grey flannel shirt and blue overalls, good teeth.

No. 32.—A negro man about five feet eight inches high, heavy whiskers and moustache, good teeth, about 45 years old, had on a white under waist buttoned up before, and would weigh about 150 pounds.

There are also buried between Gold Bluffs and Trinidad about sixteen bodies of which we have not yet got a description. Geo. Wright's horse and a camel went ashore eight miles north of Trinidad.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 17.—Thos. H. Loohrs, late Clerk of the State Prison, has been missing since Sunday last and is supposed to have drowned himself. He recently acquired the habit of gambling and became a defaulter in the sum of $1,500. Lieut. Gov. Machin paid the amount out of consideration for Loehrs' former good conduct, but the matter so preyed upon Loehrs' mind that he appears to have been driven nearly to madness. He left letters indicating his intention to commit suicide.

The heavy Chinese companies in the city have united together for the purpose of tendering to Speaker Colfax and party a complimentary banquet, to be gotten up in the highest style of Chinese culinary art. The invited guests will include our Governor, military, naval, Federal, State and municipal officers.

Patrick McNara, who had his leg run over on the Market Street Railroad on Thursday night, died of his injuries at the county hospital yesterday.

The United States steamer Suwanee, Commander Paul Shirley, arrived to-day from Philadelphia. The Suwanee carries ten guns. It is generally understood in naval circles that the United States steam sloop of war Pensacola is on her way to the Pacific. At last accounts she had gone to Philadelphia to take in her engines and equip for the voyage. The Pensacola is of the same class as the Lancaster, and will probably be used as flag ship upon her arrival. She has done good service during the recent rebellion, and among other conflicts was engaged in the bombardment of Forts Jackson and St. Philip at the taking of New Orleans, and is said to have lost more in that engagement than any ship in the squadron. She then carried twenty-four guns, mostly 80-pounders. She is classed corvette.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—Owen Mullen, who yesterday was on trial for the murder of his sister-in-law, Mrs. J. Mullen, was convicted of manslaughter. The prisoner was deeply affected and protested his innocence, declaring the shooting was purely accidental.

Col. Von Schmidt has recently returned from making from making a survey for the proposed canal and works for distributing water throughout the State from Lake Tahoe, and estimates that a tunnel 11,000 feet in length will have to be made, which work he considers the main difficulty in the way.

The Nicholson Pavement is being laid in front of the Cosmopolitan, on Bush street.

MUSEUM.

The undersigned would respectfully remind the people of Portland and public generally that he is INSURING AS GOOD PHOTOGRAPHIC WORK as can be done on the Pacific Coast, AND AT AS REASONABLE RATES.

Negatives preserved if requested, from which copies can be had at reduced rates. F. DALTON, Proprietor,

EASTERN OREGON.—Dr. Watkins has placed in our hands a letter from Lieut. McCall dated at Camp No. 15, Big Spring Valley, August 6th. He had arrived at that place on the first of the month on July, connected with the [illegible] survey of the Oregon Central Military Road. Lieut. McCall writes that the region called the [illegible] Marsh, contains a very great deal of good grazing land, but is not adapted to the growth of vegetables or any of the cereals. Its altitude is perhaps 4,000 feet, and they were having frost almost every night. Big Spring Valley, where the letter was written, is described as being a pretty little valley, where the party found [illegible], good grass, and the most wholesome water bursting out from the foot of a high timbered ridge. At a half mile from Camp No. 15 is the source of a magnificent stream, large enough to float a [illegible]. He is of the opinion that wheat, oats, and other kinds of grain on [illegible] be raised there, also some kinds of vegetables. There is an abundance of timber growing on the hills. The hills are of a sandy granite resembling the hills of Jackson county, on which grow the big yellow pine. The country east of them is represented as being a fine region. The party will continue their explorations. The route they are now traveling over seems much more preferable than the crooked river route. Superintendent Huntington was at El[illegible] having a council with the Indians, with a view of making a treaty with them. Old Paulina, the war chief of the Snakes, it was thought would come in and sit in the council. In case a treaty is effected it is thought there will be no danger in the way of constructing the road, and opening safe travel to the East. Fort [illegible] is some eight miles west of the above camp. Major [illegible] and Smith are there nicely located, and seem to be enjoying their new place of abode well.

THE TOWN OF ST. JOHNS.—A correspondent writes: "Your [illegible] may not be aware that on the east bank of the Willamette, five miles below Portland, there is a town plat laid out, which is entitled and has been recorded as St. Johns. Such, however, is the case, and from its [illegible] and commanding position, bids fair at no distant day to become a place of no inconsiderable importance. Quite an extensive operation has already been started there, under the title of the Pacific Barrel Company. Mr. D. B. [illegible], a Yankee from 'way down in Maine,' a member of the company, is superintending the work. He is going to put up a barrel manufactory, the main building of which will be two stories, 40 by 60 feet, with wing attached of one story, 30 by 15 feet. He also is building a dock 150 feet long, so that the largest vessels can load at all times. The machinery for making the barrels, which is of the latest improved pattern, will be driven by a 40 horse power engine, and will turn out 800 barrels per day. The principal business will be the making of flour and half barrels and sugar kegs for the Sandwich Island trade. The company also intend to make pork, fish and liquor barrels. Cotton wood will be used principally, and can be obtained in [illegible] in the vicinity. The company will employ fifty men, and as they are wealthy and experienced in the [illegible], the enterprise will no doubt prove [illegible], and be a grand start for the town of St. Johns."

[illegible].—The press of the interior is filled with [illegible] of the different troupes traveling through the [illegible], giving entertainments. Portland at this time has [illegible] a great aside from lager beer cellars [illegible] public for an idle evening. It will be seen from the extracts below, that some of the interior [illegible]. In commenting on one lately given [illegible], the Sentinel says: "The crowd was large [illegible] and noisy, the show cheap and the [illegible]." Miss Belle Divine has been entertaining the people. A [illegible] says of her that "while [illegible] Irish comic [illegible] she used the brogue with so much [illegible], that we at once pronounced her na[illegible] to the [illegible] born." The writer is apparently [illegible], somewhat after the style of Artemus Ward in his [illegible] of Jeff Davis, calling the chief [illegible] and "her" as often as any other way. One [illegible] the public that at a certain concert lately [illegible] place, "there was nothing in the performance [illegible] "great suggestive of a bilk." The Call [illegible] are also around, and an exchange says [illegible] over anything of the kind we ever [illegible] troupe are said to be "the only [illegible] State" worth patronizing. Roon's Menag[illegible] tour of the State. This is said to be "an [illegible], and should receive a liberal support."

[illegible].—F[illegible] ing the establishment of W. [illegible] last evening he invited us to take a look at [illegible] which he had just repaired for Mr. Burbank of [illegible]. We felt an interest in the instrument, and [illegible], when left at Mr. Shanahan's by [illegible]. Then it was in a very bad condition, having [illegible] of the flood of 1862, and been [illegible] of the [illegible] upon it until by swelling [illegible] of the nicely constructed and delicate parts [illegible]. Upon being taken out from [illegible] key-board and other portions of the instrument badly apart, so that to [illegible] $25 [illegible] would been foolish. Now it is a good instrument [illegible] doubt whether there is a better toned piano in [illegible], and it is worth [illegible] ing that the result of [illegible] is due to the skill and efficiency [illegible]. He has [illegible] his ability by this [illegible], and we are prepared to write him master [illegible]. It is creditable to the city that we have [illegible] capable of doing such work. Mr. S. [illegible] at his place on Morrison street worth a [illegible], in the line of portraits, pictures, frames, [illegible] wanting anything of that character will [illegible] him a call.

[illegible] was made upon the [illegible] of this [illegible] the representatives of a noble organi[illegible] of the good it accom[illegible] and cared for by the fair [illegible] of our city. They appeared to [illegible], and the regulars incontinently laid [illegible] their [illegible], taking [illegible] supper to be given at the Lincoln [illegible] of the [illegible]. We have no [illegible] of accor[illegible] many [illegible] for [illegible] to [illegible] by the printers of the several print[illegible] after this surprise, but we are of [illegible] in the hands of the [illegible] and the proprietors, that several [illegible]. The [illegible] is gotten up for the [illegible] to furnish [illegible] by the Hall [illegible]. We hope it will be liberally pat[illegible] ladies who have taken the matter in [illegible] ful merit they deserve.

[illegible] dog has its day" is an o'er true [illegible] over the Bulletin paper [illegible] to the rule. Annually he [illegible] and his [illegible] ravings [illegible] of the [illegible] of the dog star. His [illegible] attack [illegible] and it would [illegible] several [illegible] to work anything [illegible] thought [illegible] his [illegible] yesterday, [illegible] from [illegible] by a [illegible] "by last night's boat," is a [illegible] in regular [illegible] dog days.

The case of Coffin vs. Lo[illegible] the title of a very considerable [illegible], taken to the Wasco Circuit Court [illegible] has been in progress of trial before [illegible] of the Dalles Circuit, sitting at [illegible] y last. The action is [illegible] from [illegible] Lowns[illegible], and Stephen Coffin to Stephen [illegible] upon a deed for block [illegible] ty, dated [illegible] to test its validity. Many important [illegible] out of it, and we understand that [illegible] may, it is likely to go before the [illegible]

VERY WARM.—The weather at present writing is intolerably hot. [illegible] of the King, whose polar realms are never visited by the "fantastic heat" of summer.

[illegible] INSURANCE.—Messrs. Ladd & Tilton are prepared to issue policies for marine insurance. They are Agents for the Pacific Insurance Company of San Francisco, capital $750,000 gold coin.

M. E. CONFERENCE.—We learn that the above Conference, at Olympia, adjourned on Tuesday night last. Rev. [illegible] takes the place of Rev. D. Rutledge in this city.

[illegible] TO-NIGHT.—The various committees of the [illegible] ment will report on the annual parade programme [illegible] at the office of the Chief Engineer this evening.

STATEMENT OF THE QUARTERMASTER OF THE LOST SHIP.—A correspondent of the Bulletin writing from Crescent City gives the following as the statement of Jacob Yates, the Quartermaster of the steamer Brother Jonathan:

"On Sunday, when I took the wheel at 12 o'clock it was blowing a heavy gale of wind from the northwest. We were 4 miles off Point St. George. The sea was running mountains high, and the ship was not making any headway. Capt. De Wolfe thought it proper to turn back and run to Crescent City, and wait until the storm ceased. He ordered me to put the helm hard aport, which I did, and then he told me to steady her. I did so. Her course was then due east. The time about a quarter to 1 p. m. I kept her that course until we made the Seal Rock, and then the Captain ordered me to keep her southeast by south. It was clear where we were, but foggy and smoky in shore. Then we ran along until 10 minutes of 2 o'clock p. m. when she struck the unknown sunken rock, and with such force that it felled the passengers who were standing on deck. Some of the deck planks started. The Captain stopped the engine and endeavored to back her off. The engineer could not get her to move an inch. She rolled about five minutes and then gave another tremendous thump on the rock, when part of her keel came up alongside, and by that time the sea and wind had slowed her around so that her head came to the wind and sea. As soon as she came head to the sea, she worked off the rock a little, then her foremast went down through her bottom until the foreyard brought up across decks. At this time Captain DeWolf had been forward three times and ordered everybody to look out for themselves, and he would do the best he could for them all. I was the last one that left the forward part of the ship. As I was going aft I saw a lady and gentleman standing close by the boat. I asked them why they did not get into this boat, for it was all ready to lower? And they gave their heads a toss and told me they were going to get in the other boat. There was plenty of room in the boat at that time. As I was one of the crew of the boat, and she was being lowered, I got in her. If they had got in I would have taken my chances in another. The boat ahead of us was filled with women. I did not pay any more attention to the boat until she was lowered. The Captain said, there was enough in that boat." I had not seen Mr. Allen, the first officer, until the Captain ordered our boat lowered, then he lowered one end of it. We got our boat clear from the wreck and astern of the ship. I did not see the second officer at all. As we came around the stern we saw a boat swamped, which was full of women, and one boat capsized, with a man on her bottom, and also another one stove to pieces. Our boat was so full we could not take another soul in it. We would have gone to the assistance of the boat load of ladies who were swamped, but the sea was running so high and we were so heavily loaded that we could not do anything for them. I believe that if the passengers had listened to the Captain and manned the boats with the ship's crew, as he wished them to do, there would have been more lives saved, for there is not a ship that sails out of San Francisco which has a better crew. As for the item mentioned in the Bulletin that the crew were Kanakas, I can say that there was not one Kanaka among them."

THE BULWARKS OF THE THRONE.—The measure which passed the British House of Commons a few days ago, to relieve Roman Catholics from an obnoxious test oath, has been summarily rejected by the House of Lords. The majority reached the respectable number of twenty-one, and on this occasion the champion of the crown and the Established Church was Lord Derby himself. The reigning dynasty, the Constitution and its appendages generally, are thus safe a few years longer, for every Catholic who takes an official oath is still obliged to answer to what he doesn't believe.—New York Times, July 10th.

A FRAGRANT BREATH AND PEARLY TEETH—Are easily attained, and those who fail to avail themselves of the means should not complain when accused of gross neglect. The SOZODONT will speedily eradicate the cause of a foul breath, beautifying and preserving the teeth to the oldest age.

The dangers of acclimation—or seasoning as it is termed, incident to a change of residence to a bilious climate South or West, are entirely avoided by the timely use of OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. It should be commenced on appearance of the earliest bilious symptoms. The sensation of languor, weariness of body, depression of spirits, derangement of the stomach, pains in the bones, cannot be easily mistaken.

A Real Remedy—Brandreth's Pills.

These Pills carry the Principle of Disease and increase the Principle of Life. Dr. Lull, of Potsdam, who has used them twenty years in his practice, says: "They are a vegetable compound which invigorate, cleanse and purify the blood, correct and regulate all the secretions and, by purgation, discharge the whole mass of morbid matter from the system without reducing the strength. They are admitted to be the best Purgative and Anti-Bilious Medicine, and have not their equal for Rheumatism, Colds, Coughs, Asthma, etc., etc., and as Purifiers and Sweeteners of the Blood they are without a rival."

Caution to Water-Mill Owners

WHEREAS A JEW BY THE NAME OF J. HEXTER, living five miles east of Vancouver, Washington Territory, is offering for sale one of JAMES LEFFEL'S AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEELS, which he, through intrigue and misrepresentations has purchased of the Manufactory in Ohio, said Wheel cannot be used or sold in this country, as I own the exclusive right to manufacture, use and sell in the Territory of the United States west of the Rocky Mountains. Therefore, whoever purchases said Wheel buys a law suit.

I shall avail myself of the privilege and security of the law for the thieving proclivity of the aforesaid Hexter.

Horsemen, Now is Your Time!

I EXPECT TO EXHIBIT COBERO AND HIS FAMILY of Colts at the Oregon State Fair, Oct. 3d, at Salem. I challenge the coast to disclose or produce a Family, or a well authenticated history of a Family in America, that will surpass them for size, form, style, coat, action, and their adaptation to general use except sporting purposes. I will have some yearling colts for sale.

Persons wishing to secure the services of COBERO in Northern Oregon, for the season of 1866, can do so by seeing me or in any way to or at the fair.

I deem it unnecessary to give an extended description here, but would invite persons to call and see for themselves. Would say that I have reliable information that where the COBERO stock has been in use in Illinois for 18 years at least, they give satisfaction and bring more money than any other stock of horses.

With [illegible] above the skies,
No thirsty ground is drenched with gore,
No [illegible] soldier dies

Slavery may whet her cut throat knife,
Or rain down her assassin's ball
The martyr may lay down his life
Seward may bleed and Lincoln fall

But Freedom's arm is stronger yet
Lifted in earnest for her sons
[illegible] the trait[illegible]
The murderer's knife—the pirate's guns.

And [illegible] upon the bloody spot
Where now this monument is raised
Shall rebel bones [illegible] moulder rot
But patriots' names for aye be praised

Manifesto of George N Sanders

MONTREAL, (Canada) March 7, 1865

President Davis—My Dear Sir Encouraged by your approval of my suggestion two years since to visit Canada to form an alliance with the northern Democracy I returned here on the first of June last with my son Lewis, to place myself again in communication with you, first seeing what alliances could be formed, and whether a satisfactory adjustment could not be effected with the Washington Government.

Upon my arrival I met Jacob Thompson to whom I communicated my plans, after knowing that he had been appointed by you to a confidential mission to the Canadas Thompson would not enter into my views he had no confidence in political movements; he believed in nothing but stirring up rebellion and revolution in the North west

Upon the arrival of Clay and Holcombe, I endeavored to show the impossibility of the success of any movement not open and general in its character—that the Northern people could not be induced to rise either by States or sections, but that we could control the Chicago Convention and organize a powerful party from Portland to San Francisco that would have power to stop the war even should they fail to get possession of the Federal Government; and that after such organization was perfected and promised success, we would have a good prospect of making terms with President Lincoln previous to the election, certainly should he be defeated.

The McClellan or War Democracy having possession of the press and machinery of the Democratic party, and evincing no very friendly disposition to the South, I determined to make a direct move upon President Lincoln and for that purpose I opened negotiations with Horace Greeley He with sagacious patriotism promptly responded and for some days we had high hopes of good results Clay and Holcombe agreed to this move on my part, and with great ability and eloquence conducted the negotiations, the particulars of which they have communicated to you. During the progress of the negotiations the McClellan or War Democracy became very hostile Fearing that we would make peace with the Lincoln Government, they organized to oppose us at all hazards President Lincoln, by his negotiation and his letter, "To all whom it may concern," was thought to have destroyed all chance of an election

The War Democrats, not appreciating the position, thought McClellan's nomination as good as an election By their unwarranted confidence and false promises they seduced our friends at Chicago, and with resolution meaning nothing, pleasing no one, they nominated Gen. McClellan, who gave the finishing blow to any possible success by his arrogant, war splitting letter of acceptance.

The fact is, any plan of reconstruction that the Chicago Convention might have brought forward, the South proclaiming its satisfaction, would have insured the success of the ticket The McClellan organs, however, seemed to vie with those of Lincoln in exhibiting to the public any hostility that the Confederates might express against either of their respective favorites, and they were equally afraid to perfect any settlement with the Confederacy In a letter to Governor Horatio Seymour and Benjamin Wood, immediately after the appearance of McClellan's letter of acceptance, I endeavored in vain to move General McClellan and his advisers from their disastrous position I demonstrated that if they would come to an understanding with us, similar to that now entered into with Governor Walker, they could carry the whole country I told them plainly that if they continued to cry out for a more vigorous prosecution of the war, when the whole affair could be settled in a day, they would not, and ought not, to carry a single State

At my earnest request R J. Walker came to Montreal in January last, and is still here, but leaves to-morrow for Washington. You will see by the inclosed letter of [illegible] leading men of the North, what he pro[illegible]

I am convinced that his gratitude and love for the people of Mississippi, his old constituents, hold him still, and that he is willing, regardless of all personal consequences, to risk everything in the effort to restore the Union upon such guarantees for the rights of the South, and of all the States, as would, in his opinion, be permanent and effectual. He scouts the idea of humiliating or subjugating the South, he boasts of their unequaled courage and endurance; and insists that there is no sacrifice, except honor, to which the North ought not to submit, to re-establish a cordial and fraternal Union would

I think his plan the only one promising any success; I believe that the Lincoln Government will accede to his views. But if they should not, and the South should indicate their approval, the party in its favor would sweep the North in the elections this year.

These are Walker's opinions, and, after a full and free conference, I am certain that he is on the true and only line of American adjustment, except by long and successful fighting on our part

*   *   *   *   *

General Breckinridge of your Cabinet knows me thoroughly, and as I have been most of the time in active opposition to him, he will be able to give a fair estimate of what value may attach to my opinion Of your constitutional advisers, Senator Hunter has known me for twenty years, up to 1852, intimately After that and up to the end of the old Government, I was an active, determined opponent, more personal than political. Senators Johnson, Brown, Burnett, Wigfall and Semmes, Representatives Bocock, Miles, Boyce, McQueen, Marshall, Hodge, Machen Hoadley, Brace, Pugh, Harris, Gentry, McClaskey, Wilcox, Generals Lee, Johnston, Beauregard, Bragg, Hood, A P Hill, Cobb and G W Smith were more or less familiar with my political operations under the old order of things Pardon my referring to these gentlemen, but I feel that you have not the intimate knowledge of my actions and associations under the old Government to lead you to a correct estimate of my opinions now

If Clay or Holcombe should be with you, I am sure that they will concur entirely with my view of last Summer's proceedings, and will advise you to see W

In answer to Secretary Seward's speech at Auburn, last Autumn, attacking foreign interference in Federal politics, I said to him that, in the event of Lincoln's defeat, you would at once treat with him upon the largest and broadest basis and I have been told that the idea pleased him much And, although Lincoln's reelection has made negotiation with him more difficult, yet it will be impossible for him to long resist any practicable plan of reconstruction known to be acceptable to the South With the highest regard, I am, dear sir, your friend, GEO N SANDERS.

The Conspiracy—Atzerott's Confession

BALTIMORE July 9—The American has received a special report of the confession of Atzerott which was prepared by one who has known him since his arrest The details of the plot to abduct and murder the President which are set forth below were given the author by Atzerott but a short time before his death

George Andrew Atzerott was born in the kingdom of Prussia in 1835, and came to this country with his parents in 1844 He landed at Baltimore in which place he resided with his family for about one year when with his parents he moved to Westmoreland county, Virginia His father farmed and carried on his business—that of a blacksmith—at the Court house Atzerott was placed as an apprentice to the coach making business at the Court house where he learned the painting branch He remained at the Court house until 1856, when he went to Washington and worked for Young and also for [illegible] the well known coachmaker In 1857 he joined his brother in the coach making business at Port Tobacco This continued for four years when the firm was dissolved After this he carried on painting in Port Tobacco until last fall, when he met with John H Surratt and a man named Harbin, but Surratt induced him to join in the conspiracy for abducting the President Atzerott['s] knowledge of men and the country in the vicinity of Port Tobacco and [illegible] all the counties bordering [illegible] the Potomac gave the conspirators a valuable assistant He was well acquainted with Harbin [illegible] not long in finding out, and was at once engaged in the conspiracy Surratt went several times to Port Tobacco and often sent for Atzerott to come to Washington where he was known to many as Port Tobacco and looked upon as a very weak minded man in fact was regarded as a very harmless and silly fellow Surratt introduced Atzerott to Booth who treated him and furnished him with horses the horses being held in the name of Surratt who appeared to be the principal in the absence of Booth The first meeting of the conspirators actually engaged was at a saloon on Pennsylvania avenue called [illegible] At this meeting O'Laughlin Arnold Booth Surratt Harrold and Atzerott were present The first attempt to abduct the President was to be on the Seventh street road This was to be about the middle of March, when they expected the President to visit a camp O'Laughlin Arnold Payne, Surratt, Booth and Atzerott were present Harrold left with the buggy and the carbines for T B The plan was to seize the coach of the President Surratt to jump on the box as he was considered the best driver and make for T B by way of Long Old Field, to the Potomac river in the vicinity of Nanjemoy creek, where they had a boat waiting with men to carry over the party The boat was capable of carrying fifteen men and was a large flat bottomed batteau painted lead color which had been bought for the purpose by Booth from two men named Brawner and Smoot This plan failed, the President not coming as they desired Harrold went next morning to Washington All things remained quiet for some time after this Booth went North, Arnold and O'Laughlin to Baltimore, Payne to [illegible] Wood left also for New York A man named Howell was about this time arrested This alarmed Surratt and he left with Mrs Slater for the North This was about the first of April The next plan was to visit the theatre on the night the President was expected to be there It was arranged that Surratt and Booth were to go to the box Arnold O'Laughlin and Payne were to act some important part in getting him out, Harrold and Atzerott were to have charge of the horses and an actor was to be secured to put out the gas Booth represented the best assistant he had was an actor In this plan buggies and horses were to be used A rope which was prepared and to be at Lloyd's was to be stretched across the road to impede the cavalry in the pursuit The route at this time was the same as before except that they were to cross the Eastern Branch bridge This whole affair failed and Booth said "It is all up" and spoke of going to Richmond and opening a theatre and promised Atzerott employment in it in some capacity Atzerott was waiting for Booth to arrange his going to Richmond When the affair was renewed again, he had taken a room at the Kirkwood House Harrold called on him and left his knife, pistol and coat in the room, and told him Booth wished to see him at the Herndon House, to which place he repaired in company with Harrold This was in the evening about six o'clock He there met Booth and Payne Booth told Atzerott, "You must kill Johnson" Atzerott demurred, when Booth replied "Harrold has more courage—he will do it. Go, get your horses What will become of you anyhow?" Atzerott said to Harrold, "We must not disturb Johnson" Harrold laughed and wanted the key of the room It was refused by Atzerott, who expressed himself as fearful that harm would be done Johnson Harrold left to go to see Booth and Atzerott went to the Oyster Bay Harrold came after him and said Booth wanted to see him Atzerott did not return to the Kirkwood House during that night Atzerott did not see Booth after leaving him at the Herndon House, and he roamed about the streets nearly all night, and first heard of the murder about half past ten o'clock, while passing up the avenue The cavalry were rushing by at the time in pursuit He threw away his knife that night and parted with his pistol next morning to a friend in Georgetown Atzerott had nothing to say at any of the former meetings He knew nothing about the rope found with Spangler He believed Spangler innocent as far as he knew Booth when applied to for money, would remark that he had money in New York and would get some At one time in the Spring, or late in the Winter, Mrs Slater, Mrs Surratt, John Surratt and a Major Baron, formerly of the rebel army, left Washington together They got horses from Howard's Mrs Surratt stopped at Surrattsville, the others went to the Potomac. Major Baron returned. He did not think Baron had anything to do with the conspiracy, although he was formerly in the rebel army One of Booth's plans to obtain an entrance to the Secretary of State's house was an invention, which, if successful would have involved others in his foul acts He had made the acquaintance of a woman of strong Southern feelings, living not far from the Secretary's house, who was to make the acquaintance of a servant, who was to be introduced to Booth, and by this means he would learn something of the location of the rooms, etc. Booth was well acquainted with Mudd, and had letters of introduction to him Booth told Atzerott about two weeks before the murder, that he had sent provisions and liquor to Dr Mudd's for the supply of the pantry on their way to Richmond with the President

Michael O'Laughlin has made no formal confession as far as publicly known, but he has confessed to the original conspiracy He denied any knowledge of the murder of the President, or the attempt on Seward's life Although an alibi was tried to be made out, there is no doubt in the minds of those who know all the circumstances of O'Laughlin, that he did visit Stanton's house, as charged in the testimony before the Commission

From Mississippi.

AMONG THE NATIVES.

COLUMBUS, (Miss), June 20—Since my last letter I have returned from Macon to this point, weary and disgusted with my fortnight's experience with the natives of this country When a traveler sets out to study a people he goes prepared to live with them, be a part of them, and become not only acclimated to their country but accustomed to their customs. Livingstone found attractions among the Africans, Hall and Kane among the Esquimaux, and Vambery among the Mahometans of Persia, and the results of their existence among those barbarians have been entertaining duodecimo volumes of much value The South is a far more interesting field, and I wonder the embryo Livingstones and Vamberys have not before discovered it The people here are more barbarous have stranger customs and are by far a more interesting study than any race I have ever heard of To any one disposed still to look upon the Southern people as the "chivalrous noble people" that romance has characterized them, I would not recommend a trip to this region now, while the whole Southern race may be said to be en deshabille The war has unavoided them, and they present in character many of the deformities which a dressy belle sometimes displays when caught in the charming employment of disrobing I have been lying for a fortnight in their midst sharing their poverty and studying their habits and am now hurrying toward civilization as fast as is possible to do in this God forsaken country Their food is coarse, but their habits coarser Their garments are by no means fine, but their sensibilities are less delicate The men are stupidly ignorant—inconceivably so—and are lacking in energy, vigor, and all the characteristics of manhood to a degree so astonishing to a New Yorker that I do not fancy I shall ever recover from my amazement. Their whole employment in life appears to be to grumble at their hard fate and the cruel treatment of the Yankee Government in taking all their slaves They vary this existence occasionally by quarrelling with their former slaves, and bringing them before Col. M L Johnson, commanding this post and the sub district of Northeast Mississippi in order to complain of them for deserting the plantation and refusing to work Some of the disputes between the former master and the late slave to which Colonel Johnson is at times compelled to listen, are highly amusing, if it was not plain that the constant repetition of such scenes is wearing Johnson's life out His patience is near lying out. He remarked to me a few days ago that he was beginning to appreciate the beauties of private life "I used to wonder how Andy Johnson when I was stationed at Nashville, had the sublime patience to be Military Governor of Tennessee and sit and listen to the long winded stories of his former constituents By George, I can't conceive how he ever lived through it I don't wonder that he so heartily hates the sight of a Secesh and I trust that after my term of service is over I may never see one other, and if the negroes give the President half as much trouble as they do me I think it will be a long while before he takes any steps to give them the right of suffrage"

TROUBLE WITH THE NEGROES

Colonel Johnson's dislike for the negroes arises, I think from the trouble which his position as commander of the district gives him He found them on taking command in a terribly demoralized state They were leaving the plantations and bivouacking in the woods and killing the cattle and hogs to subsist on Several citizens were murdered by the more lawless He has since reduced them to terms put them at work told them in an order which he issued that "in the words of their best friend and wise statesman Andrew Johnson freedom meant liberty to work and enjoy the fruits of their labor" and ordered that they must be put to work He has given work to nearly two thousand of those who were previously living on the Government Now, only a few helpless negro women and children beside the white [illegible] of charity who are very numerous are subsisted [illegible] the Government rations [illegible] with the black people has much [illegible] man thought [illegible] the ability of the slave He thinks they are naturally more capable of [illegible] the great portion of [illegible] They are children in mind and [illegible] no man of means as well qualified [illegible] as white school boys of sixteen [illegible] emancipation [illegible] their ignorance he thinks is the next step toward making men of them

All of which is true as far as my experience goes but the candid truth is that generally speaking the great majority of the Southern whites are far behind the expectations in education or intellect of the negroes Both races have to be educated have to be freed from the bondage of ignorance in which the slave holders kept both the negroes and the poor white trash before they will be able to judge correctly what is best for their interest and welfare If any one wishes to comprehend how it was that the rebel leaders so successfully deluded this people into their accursed rebellion and to see how completely the poor whites became mere [illegible] in the hands of the richer planters he has only to come South and see how totally ignorant and [illegible] these poor whites are

DEPRAVITY OF THE WOMEN

I have neither space time nor inclination to say much about the women The depravity among them is fearful Their habits are neither cleanly nor delicate, their manners [illegible] rude and (positive as the assertion is it is true) virtue is the exception not the rule with them

SOUTHERN SOCIETY

I noticed that a favorite topic with the Northern press is the destruction of the Southern social system The fact is that there was no social system in the South outside of the three or four hundred thousand slaveholders and that society is now thoroughly destroyed It was as hollow as the Confederacy and as heartless The poor whites were never a part of that social system and it will be years before any respectable social system is again established here unless Northern emigration does it

Committee—Henry Miller Milwaukie, Superintendent; T M Gatch, Salem; R E Fiske, Salem; J K Sites, Dallas

There are some fine cabinets in Oregon of Birds and Animals, natives of this State These collections must greatly interest every one who desires to obtain knowledge of the wonderful works of Deity in this Department of Science Nor are the evidences of the rich provisions of Nature in the Department of Metals and Rocks of less importance A few years ago and it was hardly believed that Oregon abounded in the richest metals and ores At our great Annual State Fair we should have in specimens demonstrative evidences of the mineral wealth of Oregon Strangers from distant States will be at our State Fair Let them return to their distant homes with a just appreciation of the great mineral wealth of Oregon.

In works of Art, our citizens can make a fair exhibition We have already seen specimens of Painting, Photographic work, Dentistry, Embroidery, &c., which would do credit to other communities

We understand that fossil bones of extinct animals have been occasionally found in Oregon These should be brought to the Fair—and premiums should be awarded to the exhibitors The holders of such specimens would find sale for them at the Fair

It is now less than two months to the time fixed for the Fair. Are our citizens—farmers, mechanics, artists, ladies—preparing to make a proper exhibition of the leading interests of our State at that Fair? We trust that the number of exhibitors, the articles exhibited, and the people at the Fair, will far exceed any previous exhibition

SOCIAL CONDITION OF THE SOUTH.—The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser says that the following extract of a letter recently received by a gentleman of that city from Dr Hunt, a surgeon in the army, has been handed in for publication

HEADQUARTERS FIRST DIVISION SIXTEENTH ARMY CORPS SELMA (Ala), June 7, 1865

This region you know is the heart of the slaveocracy Estates are large, lands fertile and the blacks constitute about two thirds of the population It had entirely escaped the horrors of war The poor whites were all forced into the war, the rich stayed at home in what were called "bomb proof positions"—that is, were "detailed" on some humbug pretence of serving as agents, contractors commissioners, etc These latter grew rich—apparently richer than before—and showed their zeal for the Confederacy by hunting down the poor conscripts and deserters, who were numerous, particularly in the barren hill region toward Talladega Desertion was hardly a crime in the case of these poor fellows They knew that their families were starving and neglected by the peculiar selfish aristocracy and every instinct led them homeward—even though they knew that they would be outlaws and fugitives and hunted down actually with dogs

Such was the condition when Wilson's raid came through evangelizing the bomb proofs, as a Confederate Surgeon called the wild saturnalia of that terrible campaign The phrase indicates his feelings of spite toward the citizens which he shared with nearly all sincere and whole hearted Confederate officers This cold unsympathizing, arrogant aristocracy, which had neglected every duty to its army and had smiled superciliously at starving women and children got a lesson strictly "evangelical" to use the Doctor's phrase and how they howled! In one day they fell to poverty real or pretended What with the exodus of their slaves, and the work of plunder and the flames, they went under very rapidly

Then came our more quiet and better disciplined occupation, and the moment they found us civil they became arrogant until they found that with all our civility we were a gloomy and terrible engine at the power of the Government Then came obsequiousness

But I am wandering from the point I wished to illustrate The next scene in the drama was the return of the paroled armies of Lee and Johnston These prisoners of war affiliated or fraternized at once with our troops It was really an era of good feeling based on mutual respect

But on the other hand they came back breathing vengeance against "bomb proofs" I was up in the hills seventy miles from here alone and without escort or guard, and naturally saw and heard much from both sides Old citizens were fleeing from their homes and piteously appealing to me to know if we could not send troops to their rescue The soldiers were openly defiant of what they themselves called the [illegible] secesh, robbing them of mules cattle and provisions and with quivering lips telling me of all the [illegible] catalogue of wrongs and outrages of the last four years Several murders had already occurred and many more has since happened They that took the sword have fallen by the sword Last Saturday two wealthy and prominent citizens were hung and the gang have announced a 'proscribed list' of six others Understand this is not guerrilla warfare It is not a vendetta I can travel through all the country with no danger but the rich [illegible]

The slaves on the other hand I believe will, through all the debasement and ignorance of the blacks there is a Christ like element in their character, a gentle and forgiving spirit which is wonderful They know and insist upon their freedom but they have already learned that liberty implies labor and are mostly at work again for wages And their terror stricken masters, hunted down by returned soldiers turn humbly to the niggers for protection The great problem of liberation is by no means fixed [illegible] but we know at least that the blacks are docile and will be always so in our hands if they are only properly and wisely governed

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC,

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact, it stands unrivaled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned, and also—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease in any way connected with the disorder or decay of the PROCREATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once rebraced, revivified and built up. It well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man he stands erect; he moves with a firm step; his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom of an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor— The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER,
INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL
URINATING,
CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS
OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For those diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases, and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Males or Females,

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic.
